

Climate for the Future, Berlin October 21st – 24th 2021

Registration and Work Groups

With your registration please choose THREE work groups that you would like to be in and number your sequence of preference 1, 2 and 3 so that we can organize the groups in advance. We want to keep the groups small to allow intensive work and conversation. There is more about the themes and leaders on the Info-Page.

Please check HERE  if you are dependent on English translation.

Group leaders	Who is that?	What is the Theme?	My Choices
Dan McKanan	Professor at Harvard, USA	Shaping Camphill's Future Together with the Earth
Johannes Kronenberg	Co-worker at the Youth Section, Dornach	„Carrying the flame of Camphill onwards“: Anthroposophy updated. What could a middle path between deepening and widening out look like?
Gerriet Schwen	Forscher und Aktivist	Socialo-ecological community building. What inner aspects are needed for community?
Ulrike Wendt	Eurythmy, meditation and research into life-forces	Living movement in nature and in the human being: four ethers – four forms of thinking
Jobst Langhans	Actor, theatrical director and drama teacher	The Chekhov method of drama training works with atmosphere – so that various atmospheric layers can be brought to experience and therefore be consciously formed. This method opens up possibilities to overcome the tension that so often leads to strife between the polarities of community and the individual, whilst honoring human dignity. In this workshop I would like to create an impression of this approach.
Stefan Ruf	Co-director and psychotherapist, therapeutic community Mäander	“Atmospheric consciousness and human encounter”. How can we form interaction in spiritual awareness: between us, between us and the local environment, between us and the global environment?
Martina Rasch and Thomas van Elsen	Association for Social Farming in Germany	Social Farming as ecological inclusion
